Designing Healthcare that Cares

Dr. Laura Suttin is a physician executive, consultant, coach, speaker, and author who designs healthcare systems that reduce clinician turnover and build the organizational conditions that keep providers in practice.

Drawing on more than two decades of clinical medicine, operational leadership, and executive coaching, Dr. Suttin works with health systems, medical groups, and leadership teams on the measurable drivers of clinician turnover — burnout, communication breakdown during change, misaligned incentives, and unclear career structures.

Through her keynotes, consulting engagements, strategy sessions, and executive retreats, she equips leaders with the clarity and capacity to design healthcare systems that care — for patients, clinicians, and the mission alike.

“Working with Dr. Laura Suttin on a speaking engagement for our APPs was an absolute privilege. I had never experienced a session quite like hers, and both I and our attendees were genuinely moved and energized. The feedback was extraordinary. We were so impressed that we’re already planning to bring her back for multiple groups across our organization.”
